We All Build

This year's programs at Grace Farms are shared experiences that develop community around the theme "We all build," and give it meaning in our lives. Our 10-year theme is inspired by Sharon Prince, who took an imaginative leap to create Grace Farms, a humanitarian and cultural center rooted in a belief in people's capacity to act for the good of others and the Earth. Her vision inspires a year of programming featuring some of this century's most prolific leaders, who help us see that creativity is radiating inside each of us.

Each experience is set intentionally within a seasonal moment, to bring us closer to nature as we develop solutions to make the world a more just, sustainable, and peaceful place. None of these programs can be experienced in the same way again, either at Grace Farms or anywhere in the world.

Every day that we are gifted the opportunity to wake up on Earth, we build. What we choose to build - and how we design and build it - are questions that are explored at Grace Farms and through our Design for Freedom movement.

Our 2025-2026 season is an invitation to create pathways toward grace and peace with creativity, empathy, community, and joy together.

New Permanent Sculpture

Alicja Kwade | ParaPosition

Saturday,
September 13,
2025
3 - 4 pm

Experience ParaPosition, a remarkable sculpture by Alicja Kwade, made of slim interlocking steel frames supporting four boulders and a blue chair made of bronze, as it opens in celebration of Grace Farms' 10 Year Season.

Hear Alicja Kwade discuss ParaPosition at 3 pm.

About ParaPosition

ParaPosition's array of steel and stone draws viewers into the frame of this massive, yet fragile, universe. The substantial stones, with their immense weight, appear to defy gravity in an almost weightless balancing act. The chair beckons viewers to reflect on our relationship with the world and contemplate the fundamental nature of our existence.

ParaPosition is on view year-round as part of free daily admission. View more works in Grace Farms' permanent collection by Beatriz Milhazes, Teresita Fernández, Olafur Eliasson, Thomas Demand, and James Florio in the River Building and Barns.

10 years of Grace Farms

© Dean Kaufman

Grace Farms is a hopeful and vital space unlike any other.

To achieve unprecedented outcomes, we invite extraordinary leaders, impactful organizations, and an energized public to come together to make the world a more just, sustainable, and peaceful place.

Since opening, Grace Farms Foundation has welcomed almost one million people from all over the world and hosted world-class performers, artists, and speakers, fostering a communal and peaceful space for contemplation and meaningful dialogue. The past 10 years are defined by groundbreaking new outcomes and global initiatives that align with our work in nature, the arts, justice, community, and faith.

A significant milestone includes launching the Design for Freedom movement to eliminate forced and child labor from the global building materials supply chain, creating a clear pathway within the construction sector for human dignity. Another crucial new outcome is Grace Farms Tea & Coffee, a Certified B Corp giving 100% of its profits to supporting the work of Design for Freedom and ending forced labor worldwide. These ethical and sustainable teas and coffees enhance our programming, and with distribution in retailers including Whole Foods and presence within corporate and nonprofit partners including JPMorgan and Google, provide meaningful support for women-led co-ops and farmers globally.

To commemorate this momentous 10-year season, we present a marquee series of events from September 2025 - May 2026 that celebrate our journey, advance grace and peace, and explore the possibilities that lie ahead. The suite of offerings includes a recital by Yo-Yo Ma, cello, and Solon Gordon, piano, the opening of a new sculpture, ParaPosition by Alicja Kwade, the introduction of cellist Arlen Hlusko as Artist-in-Residence, the return of the beloved Broadway Inspirational Voices, and so much more.

We have created these exceptional experiences across various fields to capture the spirit of the transformative work we have undertaken and the future we continue to build in community with one another. We hope you leave feeling connected to a robust and diverse community, grounded in a shared vision of grace and peace.

The possibilities to create a more humane and equitable future together remain as vast as our landscape.
